

Service provider's licence: latest asset data

Our databank contains current data, and also historic data, for the client assets of custodians and fund administrators. It extends to market share, trends and historic data. For 'assets under custody', it includes a drill-down of many headline figures, which aims to get to the heart of custody assets – distinguishing those held by related lines of business, as well as splitting assets managed directly from those managed as sub-custodian, and domestic assets from cross-border assets.

Our standard, off-the-shelf service provider's licence grants limited usage of our latest tables of headline figures. Be sure that the licence is in force. Be aware that its remit extends only to data displayed at the time the analysis is performed. Here is a quick reference table:
